GOTHAM NOW SEES
THE BOY ORATORMR. BRYAN ARRIVES AT HIS DESTINATION.

Enthusiastic Crowds Welcome Him to the City—Scenes as the Party Journeyed East From Pittsburgh—General News of the Campaign that Is Now On.

New York, Aug. 12.—William Jennings Bryan stepped upon the soil of the Empire state Tuesday night for the first time since his nomination for the presidency by the democratic national convention at Chicago. The crowd that gathered at the Jersey City station of the Pennsylvania railroad to greet the Bryan party was not as large as had been expected, 1,000 people in all, probably, paying their way to the ferry house in order to see the orator from the west.

When Mrs. Bryan alighted Mr. Tomlinson took her in charge and hurried her along the private passageway, which the police had laid out for the party to pass through. She was hardly noticed by the crowd, and took the first boat out of the slip, while her husband and the remainder of the party followed behind the struggling police to a second boat. To go a distance of less than a hundred feet it took the party some fifteen minutes or more. The police threatened with their batons and hustled and jostled the people to clear a passageway. The crowd was good-natured, but insistent, and demanded in anything but dulcet tones that Mr. Bryan should speak. He smiled and shook his head in refusal, and then the crowd called for Sewall. Finally the police made a way, and the party reached the boat.

When the boat reached the dock in New York Capt. Cross, with a cordon of police, held the crowd aboard the boat for a few minutes while Mr. Bryan, Mr. Sewall and the remainder of the party entered a carriage in waiting. When they got outside the ferry gates they found at least 500 more people waiting, and, although the police made all diligent effort to allow the carriage to proceed, it was stopped several times, the last time being when the horses, annoyed or scared by the applause and shouting, balked.

Besides Mr. Bryan and Mr. Sewall, Chairman Jones and Mr. St. John occupied the carriage. The national chairman became a little frightened at the behavior of the horses and left the carriage. The remainder of the party sat quietly until the animals were ready to proceed.

At Mr. St. John's house in Thirty-fourth street there was another gathering of citizens, who applauded vociferously. Neither Mr. nor Mrs. Bryan showed much fatigue after their long journey.

BRYAN HAS TO QUIT.

His Voice Affected by the Many Speeches He Has Made.
Pittsburg, Aug. 12.—The Hon. William Jennings Bryan and party left Pittsburg at 7:30 o'clock Tuesday on the day express over the main line of the Pennsylvania railway and continued their journey eastward.

Johnstown, Pa., Aug. 12.—Approaching Johnstown, Mr. Bryan and Mr. Bland were escorted to the rear platform by the committee in charge for the purpose of permitting Mr. Bland to introduce Mr. Bryan to the large crowd of people who were assembled to greet him. Mr. Bland attempted to make a little speech, but had to give way to Bryan.

Greensburg, Pa., Aug. 12.—The Bryan train arrived at Greensburg at 8:31 a.m., and only stopped for two minutes. About 2,000 people were at the station. Mr. Bryan appeared on the rear platform and was greeted with a hearty cheer. He refused to speak, however, and bowed his acknowledgements.

Chester, Pa., Aug. 12.—The train bearing the Bryan party passed this point at 10:30. Several hundred people visited the train and shook hands with Mr. and Mrs. Bryan.

Altoona, Pa., Aug. 12.—This industrial city was stirred up by the passage of Mr. Bryan and several thousand people were at the station to give him a cordial welcome. Mr. Bryan shook hands with as many as possible during the five minutes' stay. Cheers were continuous and persistent demands were made for a speech. Owing to the condition of his voice and his desire to retain in a measure the power of speech, Mr. Bryan declined to speak, although he was manifestly greatly pleased by the demonstration. In his stead Mr. Bland responded.

Tyrone, Pa., Aug. 12.—When the Bryan train reached this point about 250 men and women waded through the mud and water in a ditch beside the track to catch the hands of Mr. and Mrs. Bryan, cheering meanwhile with spirit and effect. Again Mr. Bland responded to the calls for Bryan.

Huntingdon, Pa., Aug. 12.—To the 500 people at the depot when the Bryan train arrived, and who voiced a glad welcome, Mr. Bland again spoke.

Lewistown Junction, Pa., Aug. 12.—At Lewistown Junction Mr. Bryan shook hands with a few hundred people who had gathered at the depot, and Mr. Bland addressed them.

Newport, Pa., Aug. 12.—To the 250 persons assembled at the depot to see Mr. Bryan and his party, Mr. Bland spoke briefly.

Harrisburg, Pa., Aug. 12.—The large depot sheds the adjacent platforms and streets and the tops of the cars were filled with crowds densely packed when the train reached this city. Mr. and Mrs. Bryan and Mr. Bland were upon the platform of one of the forward cars when the train swept past the depot. Mr. Bryan shook hands with many, but he declined to speak. There were upward of 5,000 persons in the crowd.

Lancaster, Pa., Aug. 12.—In addition to the intelligence that Mr. Bryan's voice will not be in good trim for his speech at Madison Square garden this evening, comes the news that he contemplates reading it from manuscript. At this place Mr. William Hayes Grier introduced Mr. Bland, who spoke from the rear of the car to the dense crowd of people around him. Mr. Bland's remarks were interrupted and cut short by the moving away of the train. There was no stop between Lancaster and Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 12.—A large and enthusiastic crowd succeeded in forcing its way through the Pennsylvania railroad gates here when the train bearing W. J. Bryan and his party rolled into the station on time at 5:47 p.m. Both Mr. and Mrs. Bryan appeared on the rear platform of their car and shook hands with all who could come within reach. No speeches were made. Several handsome bouquets of roses were presented to Mrs. Bryan.

Trenton, N. J., Aug. 12.—There was no stop between Philadelphia and this city. A great crowd was prevented from greeting the candidate by the failure of the railroad officials to open the gate leading to the train platform. Mr. and Mrs. Bryan shook hands with all who could get near them in the limited time, and after a stop of one minute the train proceeded.

WILLIAMS AND SILVER.

Appeal for the White Metal from Massachussetts.

Boston, Mass., Aug. 12.—The Bryan-Williams-Williams club has entered the political arena against the democratic state committee, which has shown an inclination to oppose Bryan for president and Williams for governor. Chairman H. T. Schaefer and Secretary Joseph A. Dennison has issued an address to the voters, in which the state committee was scored and the silver issue defined. The address says:

"The supreme law of the democratic party is the platform adopted by its national convention. No democrat who believes in party loyalty can refuse fealty to the candidates and platform. Whatever his former allegiance, no citizen who believes in relieving the people of their steadily increasing burden, under which they are being crushed, can fail to indorse the Chicago platform."

After devoting considerable space to the silver issue the address continues:

"We assert that the free coinage of silver will not depreciate any value, but will cause industry so to thrive that values and recompense for labor will be enhanced, and that conditions surrounding life will be made easier; that such enormous fortunes, a threatening menace to the country, will not be accumulated, but that more men will own homes and more homes will be made happy."

"We urge, therefore, the people of this commonwealth, who have always stood with ear intent to hear the moan of suffering humanity, to right the wrongs that have been caused our body politic, to lift the burdens caused by dishonest currency, to stand for honest money 'of the people, for the people and by the people,' and no longer to assist in the continuance of the reign of greed and lust for power that now exists."

"If this country is to endure conditions must be altered. If the people do not rouse themselves in defense of their rights, then this most glorious attempt at free government must fall, as other republics have fallen—in ruin, dishonor and despotism."

IOWA FUSION ASSURED.

Big Conference at Ottumwa—Makes All Arrangements.

Ottumwa, Iowa, Aug. 12.—At the conference of leaders of three parties held here Tuesday afternoon complete plans for fusion on state, electoral and congressional tickets were made. The fight on Boies, which threatened the peace of the fusion family, was averted. Senator Bolter wanted to be delegate-at-large for the democrats, and was showing considerable strength. Boies' friends, however, approached Bolter with the promise of the supreme judgeship. Senator Bolter declared that he did not want the judgeship, but stopped fighting Boies. It is expected that he will be nominated anyway for supreme judge, and the democrats of the 7th district will indorse Judge Cole for congress.

No conclusion as to treasurer was arrived at. The railroad commission was the sensation of the conference. It will doubtless go to Donahue, a silver republican, who is in the wholesale hardware business at Burlington, although Amos Steckel of Bloomfield has not given up the fight for it. With Senator Bolter for supreme judge the slate is complete. All the elements seem to be satisfied, even to those populists who came to the conference rampant for "middle of the road" tickets. The state committee will be reorganized, with Ed Carr of Leon as chairman and E. M. Carr of Manchester secretary.

The convention opened at 10 o'clock this morning. The platform will be a terse indorsement of the Chicago platform. There will be no populist state convention called, and the fight is now over.

LIVES LOST BY FIRE
AT NEW YORK CITYTHREE BURNED TO DEATH AT THAT PLACE.

Blaze Which Is Believed to Have Been the Work of an Incendiary Destroys Two Buildings—Serious Fire at Norfolk, Va.—Blazes at Other Points.

New York, Aug. 12.—At least three persons and possibly others were burned to death in a fire that destroyed a six-story brick building at No. 465 Greenwich street Tuesday afternoon. Several persons were injured by the smoke and heat and by jumping, and two of them are expected to die. The dead are:

WILLIAM GRAY, foreman of the electrical repair shops.

TWO UNKNOWN MEN.

All of them were caught on a fire escape and burned to death in view of the crowd. The injured who are expected to die are:

Felix Hass.

Unknown man.

The other persons hurt went to a hospital, and then home.

The ground floor of the building was occupied by A. K. Warren & Co., who operated the New York Electrical repair shops. The firm also occupied the fourth, fifth, and sixth floors. The second floor was occupied by Julius Cohen as a distillery, and the third floor was occupied by Plaut & Bros., manufacturing jewelers.

This building was completely burned out, and so was the one adjoining, at No. 467. The latter building was occupied on the ground floor by Alexander Klinkowski, a wine refiner, and the second floor as well. The third floor was vacant; the fourth was occupied by John Laney as the New York Pan company, and Kellsal & Co., cane manufacturers, occupied the fifth floor. The top floor was vacant.

How the fire started is not known, but its origin is attributed to an explosion. It began in the rear on the ground floor of No. 465 Greenwich street, and before the alarm could be given the flames shot up the air-shafts and the smoke was pouring out of the roof.

Most of the persons in the building were at work in the machine shops of A. K. Warren & Co., on the fifth floor of the building. Those who were first to reach the fire escape succeeded in making their way down to the first floor landing, and from there jumped to the sidewalk. Those who followed found that they were cut off by flames, and dense smoke, which poured out of the windows below and escaped over the roof.

The flames ate their way through the building at No. 465 quickly, and then burnt through the wall into the adjoining building, at No. 467. The flames were also blown into the windows of No. 467, and in a few moments that building was burning from top to cellar. Four alarms were turned in, and for a time it looked as if everything on the floor would burn. All traffic in that section of the city was suspended, as the hose crossed not only the surface railways, but the elevated as well. Eight or ten explosions added to the excitement, but served a good purpose in aiding the fire department, as thereafter the flames were more easily gotten under control.

Individual losses were not known definitely, and a total of $150,000 is estimated. Warren & Co.'s loss, as all others, was total, and is estimated at $25,000.

Fierce Fire at Norfolk, Va.

Norfolk, Va., Aug. 12.—A terrible conflagration broke out Tuesday night at 8:30 o'clock, destroying the Atlantic sawmills, the Old Dominion's Guana factory and the Merritt Wrecking warehouse and the docks. The fire covered several blocks on the water front in Atlantic City ward, and was fiercely fought by the firemen. The heat was terrible, and no less than twenty-five firemen were struck down at their post of duty and removed to the hospital and their homes. The total loss will reach nearly $100,000. The cause of the fire is unknown.

No Relief at St. Louis.

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 12.—The thermometer mounted upward again Tuesday and came within three points of the highest registered thus far this year.

At 5 o'clock the government record was 97 in the shade. Many prostrations have resulted, and the city dispensaries and hospitals are again feeling the effect of the rush. Up to 8 o'clock at night twenty-five cases of prostration were received at the central dispensary and as many more at the north and south branches.

A number of deaths occurred.

Big Death List at Boston.

Boston, Mass., Aug. 12.—The death list from heat in this city and suburbs Tuesday foots up seventeen, while the number of prostrations is rising in the hundreds.

Men, women and children succumbed on all sides, factories and mercantile establishments were forced to suspend operations, work was stopped on the subway, and in the federal building it became absolutely necessary to excuse the majority of the clerks.

Prostration at Bloomington, Ill.

Bloomington, Ill., Aug. 12.—The heat continues here. The following prostrations were reported: Miss Lulu Fowler, laundry employee; Daniel Mulcahy, laborer, wife; Miss Julia Rodenauer, stenographer. The linemen of the telegraph and telephone companies refused work on the poles.

Nineteen at Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 12.—The awful heat continued Tuesday. At 3 o'clock the maximum was reached with 90 degrees.

The heat was not so intense on account of the humidity, being much lower, ranging from 60 to 55. At 2 a.m. the death list had increased to nineteen.

Few Prostrations at Cincinnati.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Aug. 12.—Tuesday was as oppressive as Monday and Sunday, but the prostrations were fewer because of great precautions taken by the people. There were but two fatalities.

Populist Committee Called.

Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 12.—Senator Butler has called a meeting of the national populist committee to be held at Washington next Tuesday to decide on the immediate opening of headquarters at the convention.

To Open the Eastern Campaign.

Chicago, Aug. 13.—Ex-President Harrison will open the campaign in the east on Aug. 27. He will speak in Madison Square, New York, and the local managers are preparing to give the ex-president a magnificent reception.

Industrial Plants Close Down.

Providence, R. I., Aug. 12.—The awful heat continued to kill in all parts of Rhode Island, and Tuesday night eight deaths were recorded. Many industrial plants closed down in and about this city, and the number of prostrations exceeded anything ever known here.

TWO HUNDRED DEAD
FROM THE HEATRECORD IS BROKEN AT NEW YORK CITY.

Men and Women Fall and Die in the Streets From the Intense Heat Before Medical Aid Can Be Secured—Cooler Weather in Some Parts.

New York, Aug. 12.—On Tuesday another day of fearful heat which is oppressing this section added a page of fatalities and suffering more remarkable than its predecessors. In New York city, in Brooklyn and all the adjacent towns and throughout the states of New York and New Jersey the day's reports of deaths and prostrations overshadow the record of any other day in many years. In this city alone the death list for twenty-four hours footed up more than 100 names. Brooklyn adds eighteen to the list, and the heat's victims in the suburban towns bring the total to 200. Men and women walking along the streets have dropped in their tracks and died before the physicians could be summoned, and horses have died as if stricken by a plague.

The department of public works has come to the relief of the tenement house districts, and forces of men with hose carts are patrolling the streets of these sections and flooding them with water from the corner hydrants. Men, women and children rush in groups under the streams from the hose, and the night scenes among the tenements as the relief parties make their rounds are unprecedented.

In Jersey City there were twelve deaths and twenty-eight prostrations. On Staten Island, fourteen deaths and nineteen prostrations; Newark, nine deaths and twenty prostrations; Long Island City, five deaths and thirteen prostrations; Paterson, four deaths and six prostrations; Hackensack, two deaths and five prostrations; Passaic, three deaths and six prostrations; Hoboken, seven deaths and sixteen prostrations.

DIE WITH RELIEF NEAR.

Ten Chicagoans Perish and Forty-Nine Wilt before It Rains.

Chicago, Aug. 12.—Two waves of abnormally high barometer from the west and the southeast cornered the hot wave directly above Chicago at 6:40 o'clock last night. Only at 6 o'clock in the evening, when black clouds rolled up the west, did relief appear, and then it was two hours before the thunder-storm that broke on the city had any perceptible effect. For the day there were ten deaths and forty-nine prostrations. To the health department 134 deaths were reported from various causes, thirty-eight of them being attributed to sunstroke. Some of those overcome on Monday and Sunday were reported.

Illinois Populists Meet Today.

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 12.—The populist convention will nominate Altgeld for governor, and, unless the "middle of the road" men show a very great increase of strength, will put all the democratic state candidates upon their ticket, with the exception of F. W. Beck, the candidate for auditor. They will demand a certain number of populist electors. Chairman Taubeneck favors this plan, although he strenuously denies having expressed himself as to the action of the state convention in regard to the state ticket. He refuses to talk on this point, and professes to be entirely ignorant of anything regarding the state ticket.

The state central committee last night selected C. E. Palmer of Noble as temporary chairman and Fred Blood of Mount Vernon as temporary secretary.

Democratic National Committee.

New York, Aug. 12.—The democratic national committee met Tuesday, Senator Jones in the chair. Senator Gorham offered a resolution that the chair should appoint a committee of twenty-five to be known as the executive committee; a committee of twenty-five to be known as the finance committee, and a committee of nine to be known as the campaign committee, the chairman, Senator Jones, to be ex-officio member of each committee. The resolutions were adopted without dissent. This committee will select the permanent headquarters of the national committee. It is believed here that the quarters of the national committee will be located at Washington, with branches at New York and Chicago.

Illinois Gold Democratic Convention.

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 12.—C. A. Ewing of Decatur, chairman of the "sound money" democratic state executive committee, after a long consultation with Senator John M. Palmer prepared and signed the official call for the "sound money" democratic state convention to meet in Chicago Aug. 25. The convention will consist of 1

END BASE BALL WAR AT ATHLETIC PARK

BITTER FEELING BETWEEN EDGERTON AND SHARON

Latter Team Challenges the Former to a Series of Three Games, to Be Played Here, For $500 and All the Receipts—Other News From Old Rock County.

There is war to the knife between the Sharon and Edgerton base ball clubs and the Sharon team wants to fight it out in Janesville. The following deed has been issued by the latter club:

Sharon, Wis., Aug. 11.—The Sharon base ball club warns other clubs against playing the Edgerton team, unless it deposits a forfeit. On Monday, 1,500 people gathered at the ball park here and were disappointed; the Edgerton club sending a telegram at 4 o'clock to the effect that an injured player prevented the club's appearance. The Edgerton club would have been compelled to start at 9 o'clock in the morning to have reached Sharon in time for the game. The Sharon club challenges the Edgerton team to play at the Janesville ball park, on August 22, 25 and 29, for $500 and the entire gate receipts, the teams to be made up as they were at Edgerton on August 8. The Sharon club desires that J. Carroll shall umpire the games, he to be paid $10 a game by the winning club. If Edgerton accepts let it answer through the Sentinel and deposit its money with that paper. If Edgerton refuses to accept, the challenge is open to any State league team, except Evansville. We hope that Edgerton, will accept.

THE WEEK UP AT EVANSVILLE.

Marriage Was Quite a Surprise—Other Notes of Interest.

Evanville, Aug. 11.—The marriage of William L. Burke, of this city, and Mrs. Rose Colgrove, of Dennison, Iowa, last week, was quite a surprise to our citizens. Born, August 4, to Mr. and Mrs. Frank McCarr, a daughter; August 5, to Mr. and Mrs. Christian Cole, a daughter; August 6, to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Porter, a daughter; who says Evansville has no girls. While M. Sayles was driving Monday his horse became frightened at an umbrella and threw Mr. Sayles out, striking in such a manner as to break his collar bone. As Mr. Sayles is quite an aged gentleman, many fear for the results. Purr Toller who broke his collar bone being thrown from his bicycle a week ago Sunday is improving as rapidly as possible. Mrs. Kate Apfel, who has been quite ill for several days is much better. Several small children are reported quite ill here and near here. Herb Van Patten, who has been employed by J. H. Milton Junction, Aug. 11.—Frank Rookner, who lives north of town, was overcome by the heat Monday while at work in a car of lumber. Dr. Hull was called and the man was taken to the home of Mr. Seger, where he is doing well and will probably recover. Mrs. C. O. Button has a lady friend from Milwaukee visiting her. #### VERY HOT AT EMEKALD GROVE

Thermometer Got Up to One Hundred in the Shade

Emerald Grove, Aug. 11—Last week was a record breaker as to heat. Every day was warmer than the one preceding and the mercury several times indicated 100 degrees in the shade. We had a number of heavy rains but it did not lower the temperature. A. D. Barlass returned to Waukesha, Monday, where he is receiving a course of treatment. Cider time has arrived and we notice many are laying in a large store of vinegar (?) as usual. Our citizens will be on hand at the Caledonian games. J. R. Lamb will have his tug of war team on hand, so we are told. Mrs. J. W. Morgan, of Evansville, is visiting her sister. Miss Lavena Gillies Sunday in Janesville with her friend, Miss Mattie Shopbell. His death was caused by heart failure, and had been dead some twelve hours when discovered by a neighbor. Mr. Loyd was over eighty years of age and had always enjoyed the best of health. He was one of the early settlers, and was a kind neighbor and respected citizen. His funeral took place on Monday at this place and was conducted by the Rev. G. Hammond.

THE ENGINES CAUSED TROUBLE.

Horses are Frightened and the Consequences May Be Serious.

Beloit, Aug. 12—While Mrs. Goodwin and Mrs. Watrous were driving toward the city on the Janesville road, a man suddenly appeared and grasped the bridle of their horse. Not comprehending the motive of the man and imagining that they were being "held up," Mrs. Watrous was seriously startled by this action that she suffered an attack of heart trouble to which she is subject, from which she has not yet recovered. The man's intentions were to safeguard them past a traction engine a little beyond, but he uttered no warning voice to put the ladies on their guard against such a surprise as he gave

While another traction engine was moving slowly north on Union street and the Janesville road, the horse drawing a carriage in which were seated Mrs. Dr. Johnson and Mrs. J. G. Rood were riding became frightened and turning suddenly threw the ladies out of the carriage, Mrs. Rood being quite seriously bruised by her fall. Fortunately Mrs. Johnson escaped with slight injury.

LADIES' AUXILIARY 12 SESSION.

The Annual Meeting Held at the Y. M. C. A. Building Yesterday

A year's work was reviewed by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A. at the annual meeting held at the new building yesterday afternoon. The meeting was called to order at 4 o'clock by the president, Mrs. Mary L. Beers. Mrs. J. T. Wright invoked the divine blessing and the regular order of business was then taken up. Mrs. M. G. Hodge, chairman of the nominating committee, sent her report to Mrs. J. C. Kline. The report stated that owing to Mrs. Hodge's continued illness she had been unable to call her committee together and requested that the committee be allowed longer time.

The request was granted and the officers will be elected at the next regular meeting which will be held on Sept. 1. At that meeting, also the matter of the next reception will be arranged. Miss Ella DeBau, who has held the position of secretary of the auxiliary for the past three years, positively declined to serve longer and her refusal was received with regret as she has been a most faithful, energetic and efficient worker and the auxiliary can ill afford to lose her.

President Beers' report was read and adjournment followed. Mrs. Beers' report was as follows:

JANESVILLE, AUG. 10, 1896—DR. E. E. Loomis, PRESIDENT OF THE Y. M. C. A.: In accordance with the requirements of our constitution, I hereby present to the association the work of the Women's Auxiliary, for the years '95 and '96, including, dating from August, '95.

The results of our year's work are encouraging. We have a membership, August, '96, of 12, of this number fifty-three ladies have paid dues for this year.

An average attendance at our regular meetings is fifteen. I omit in this average the February session, when between eighty and one hundred were in attendance. This meeting occurred just before the "Mother Goose" Market. The social committee has held six entertainments, three for revenues. In September a cake sale was held opposite the postoffice. In October, as the opening of the building; in January, "Open House"; in February, "The Mother Goose Market"; in May, the gymnasium reception; and in June on Woodman's Day, the Auxiliary served refreshments in the building.

Before purchasing furniture for the building we had a treasury about $217.

We have established the dormitories (exclusive of gift) and partially furnished the library parlor. We have paid on the auditorium chairs, $125.

We have purchased screens.

In the general canvas of the city previous to the "Ladies' Canvas" of the city auxiliary, with the assistance of the building the auxiliary, with the assistance of a few non-members raised $1,400.

I beg leave to call your attention to the fact that a total of about $2,000 has been raised for the Y. M. C. A. by fund raising efforts of the women of the city, with the auxiliary at the center, as an earnest and inspiring effort.

We hope in the coming year to increase our efforts, as an effort committee of the association.

Before closing this report I would like to add a few words of warning. As far as the memory of man goes, she served from treasurer of our auxiliary, a period of two years.

Conscientious, energetic and a half.

sweet possibilities which seemed open before her for future usefulness. But He doeth all things wisely, and "beyond the fever and fretting" she sleeps well. She has left among us as a rare perfume and incense, the memory of her good works.

In behalf of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Young Men's Christian Association.

MARY L. BEERS, President.

PLAN A SERIES OF MEETINGS.

Good Citizenship Cause to Be Advanced in the County.

Plans for an active good citizenship campaign in Rock county were made at a meeting of the executive committee of the Local Union of the Christian Endeavor Societies and Epworth Leagues held in the parlor of the Y. M. C. A. building last evening.

The meetings will be held during the fall and winter. Janesville ranks second city in the world in work done in this direction and the workers are much encouraged.

The report made at Washington developed the fact that the Bower City was next to the lead, and came within one of carrying off the Good Citizenship banner, Cleveland, Ohio, capturing the prize.

Several bills were allowed and ordered paid, and Frank A. Spoon was appointed chairman of a committee for making arrangements for an entertainment to be given some time during September. He selected Miss Margaret Henderson and Arthur Boedicker as other members of the committee.

A meeting of the Christian Endeavor societies was held after the adjournment of the local union. Miss Grace Kirk was appointed chairman of a committee to make all arrangements and get members interested in attending the convention, which will be held the latter part of the month. The Janesville societies expect to have a special car and to take at least one hundred members to the convention.

THE UNIONS CANNOT AGREE.

Location of the Labor Day Picnic Is the Bone of Contention.

The Labor unions are having a fight over the location of the Labor Day picnic. One faction favored holding it at the Fair grounds, and the other up the river. The Fair grounds were selected at the last meeting, and the contract was made, but last night the matter was re-considered, and it was decided to hold the picnic up the river, the vote standing 17 to 15.

Early Settlers' Picnic

The Early Settlers' club of Janesville and vicinity, will hold their annual basket picnic on Tuesday, the 18th of August, at the Crystall Springs and Mayflower parks. The grounds will be open from 10 o'clock during the day free of charge, and all early settlers and their friends are cordially invited to attend. Social intercourse, interspersed with impromptu speeches and talks from old pioneers will be the order of the day. Boats will run from their docks alternating every half hour during the day and evening from 10 o'clock a. m. Fare for the round trip 25 cents, children under fifteen years of age 10 cents. A good band of music will be in attendance. Parties desirous of becoming members of the club can do so at any time by applying to the undersigned.

F. S. LAWRENCE, Secretary.

WROTE A TENDER OBITUARY.
Mary A. P. Stansbury's Article on the Death of Henry Faville.

An exceedingly pretty and tender obituary was written by Mary A. P. Stansbury, of Appleton, on the death of Henry Faville, son of the Rev. Henry Faville, of that city, who died at Lake Mills. It is published in the Appleton Post: "Friends," says the writer, "who had come from near and far, took the shady road winding through the green, undulating country, with the lake glimmering now and then between the trees, to the old farm house nestling amid laden orchards, where he lay in simple state, robed for his last reception. The semblance of added years, which death always imparts to the young face, was there as we looked upon it, but there was something more—an indefinable grace and nobleness which idealized the familiar features. It was as if the dark angel, in touching him, had said, 'Behold what he would have been, as the discipline of earth chastened and refined his eager spirit! See here the prophecy of his development in the eternal years!' The boys who loved him lifted the flower-strewn casket, and bearing him gently out of the old house, the little cortège moved slowly toward the village. At his uncle's home it rested, met in sorrowful welcome by other friends who brought the dearest gift which love has for grief—sympathy and tears. All the rooms were full of flowers—roses, carnations and lilies, and the sweet-breathed blossoms of the garden, field and wood. It seemed that nature, knowing her young lover had yielded her most precious treasures—beautiful but frail—to grace this early parting. Mr. Mathis read the old words of strong, sure comfort and spoke with appreciative understanding of the life whose promise was to be fulfilled elsewhere, and Mr. Davis, as the spokesman of the hushed assemblage, made a simple and beautiful prayer. Then once more his six friends carried him out into the sunshine, while eight boy cousins walked beside the bier. The way to the graveyard lay between green fields, and up a long grass covered slope from whose top the eye ranges far over the quiet country. The spot where he lies is a fair place to sleep in. He slumbers with those of his own blood and name—a noble and God fearing race, who have lived and died in the faith. He has gone with the dew of the morning on his brow. Not for him are the sharp pangs of sudden disappointment, the long suspense that sickens the heart with hope deferred. The unbroken dreams of his youth shall all come true in the kingdom of his Father."

TO TALK FINANCE TO INDIANS

Silverites and Gold Bugs Will Camp in Northern Wisconsin.

A party of Janesville campers will leave the city Saturday, for a month's outing in the pines of Wisconsin. The party will include: Captain W. E. Evanson, Richard Valentine, Dr. W. H. Palmer, Arthur Valentine, W. P. Sayles, and A. M. Valentine. They will camp for a week, thirty miles back in the woods from Field, and from there will "shoot the rapids" down the Flambeau river to Chippewa Falls. From there they go to Cedar Lake. As the party is strongly democratic, there is little doubt but what Lo, the poor Indian, will hear both gold bug and sixteen-to-one speeches from the stumps, as the party is "somewhat split" on the financial issue.

HOW DEBTORS SUFFERED

If the so-called "crime of 1873" injured anybody it must have been the debtors.

Wage earners would not suffer but would gain greatly by any change that would increase the purchasing power of a dollar.

Farmers, merchants and manufacturers also would find profit in such a move.

Every free silver campaigner, however, waxes eloquent over the wrongs suffered by debtors. The alleged victims of a monstrous iniquity are constantly being held up to the public gaze as a class deserving relief. They should not be required, we are told, to pay their debts in money worth much more than that which existed when those debts were contracted. But they never tell us the probable number of such persons, or the probable amount of such debts. The wrong that they condemn in terms of the utmost severity was committed twenty-three years ago. How many men who owed debts at that time still owe them? The average duration of debts is about three years; and it is reasonable to assume that the majority of debts now outstanding in the United States do not date back of 1893. What, then, has the legislation of 1873 to do with them? They were contracted after that legislation had been in force for twenty years. By what rule of logic or justice or morality, then, do debtors of that kind have a claim to relief on account of a thing that happened so long ago? The mere statement of the proposition is sufficient to show its absurdity.

It is not at all likely that any amount worth mentioning of the debts existing when the act of 1873 was passed are still unpaid. Many bonds representing the government debt have been issued since that time; and the same is true of the great bulk of railroad and municipal bonds. These and all other present debts were contracted under good standard conditions, and with full knowledge of the legislation that is said to have stealthily pressed the crown of thorn on the brow of the poor debtor. The man who owes a debt today owes a given number of dollars worth one hundred cents apiece; and the proposition of the free silverites is that all such debtors shall be given the right to pay said debts in dollars worth only fifty cents each. They do not advocate a scaling of the indebtedness in proportion to the rise in the value of gold during the three years that the debts have presumably existed, but according to the measure of the appreciation of that metal for those three years and the twenty years preceding the making of the contracts. It would certainly not be honest to pay these debts in that way. The proceeding would be repudiation, pure and simple. There is nothing in the pretext that free coinage is necessary or desirable to correct an injustice to men who borrowed money twenty-three years ago and have been prevented from paying it by the demonetization of silver. The debtors of that class are too scarce to be considered; and as for debtors of other classes, their obligations were incurred without any relation to the legislation of 1873.

GOOD NEWS

Encouraging reports are received from all parts of the state. A correspondent writing from Ashland says: "Individual reports from 200 republican workers at voting precincts in this section show a great decline in free silver sentiment among republicans; a large and increasing gold faction, which is becoming aggressive and the greatest enthusiasm and confidence among republican workers ever known since the 70s."

From western states the news is equally encouraging. Missouri is said to give strong promise of republican victory and a republican campaigner in Kingman County, Kan., the populists' stronghold, writing to the committee to acknowledge the receipt of tariff and sound money literature says:

"Its effect is now plainly visible. I believe that 50 per cent of our loss of thirty days ago has been reclaimed."

These are cheering bits of news. From the first it has been felt that the east would take care of itself.

With the west swinging into line for McKinley and the one hundred cent dollar a tremendous republican majority is assured.

Washburn Times—Occasionally we run across a democrat—they are not very plentiful—who intends to vote for Bryan, free silver and free trade this fall. They do not seem to be satisfied with four years of depression and stagnation, but evidently want to prolong it for four years more.

MRS. MARKS IS VINDICATED

Chicago Justice Fines Her Assistant-Charges Were Not Up-Held

A few days ago the Chicago Dispatch printed a sensational story and it was published by a local paper as "the scandal in which two Janesville girls figured." The "scandal" part of it pretty well exploded as will be seen by the following from the Chicago News:

Justice Richardson this morning probed into the difficulties between Mrs. Charles Hochkirch, of the Palmer house, and Mrs. Florence Marks, who two weeks ago met in front of the Palmer house and engaged in a hair pulling match. The court after listening to all the evidence in the case, fined Mrs. Hochkirch five dollars for disorderly conduct.

Mrs. Marks told the court that on the day of the trouble Mrs. Hochkirch attacked her, and without any provocation behaved over her head with an umbrella, threatened her, and did many other things. Mrs. Marks said she was rendered unconscious by the blows received at the hands of Mrs. Hochkirch, and had several witnesses to testify in her behalf. Mrs. Hochkirch denied the charges, but declared Mrs. Marks had circulated reports about the city damaging Mr. Hochkirch's character.

The Record tells the story as follows:

Mrs. Charles Hochkirch, who several days ago created a scene in front of the Palmer house by striking Mrs. Florence Marks with an umbrella on the head, was fined $5 by Justice Richardson yesterday on a charge of disorderly conduct. Mrs. Hochkirch said Mrs. Marks had circulated untrue reports concerning her husband's character. This was not proved, however.

Janesville relatives of Mrs. Marks were much displeased because of the publication of the Dispatch's article, and said nothing, feeling that the injustice done them would become apparent when the case came to trial in court.

Chadwick's Trotter Fell, Doubting Its Head Under Its Body.
J. C. Chadwick, the well known horseman, formerly of this city, but now of Juda, met with an accident last week that was rather a peculiar and expensive experience. The horse was a costly animal.

Papers have been drawn up and been signed, for the sale of the Windsor Hotel, in this city, to Chicago parties, the consideration being $15,000. Frank E. Behrendt was in the city a few days ago, making arrangements for the transfer of the property, and after reaching Chicago wrote that everything was satisfactory, and that the deal had been made. For some time past negotiations have been pending for the sale of the property, and it is said that Mr. Behrendt took Chicago real estate in part payment.

The new owner of the property is a Mr. Russel, a Chicago hotel man and it is said to be his intention to open the house before many days.

A Popular Sale.

It's a foregone conclusion, if an offering has merit, it's popular with the ladies. This week we are advertising an early sale of dress goods, new novelty dress patterns that are cheap in price, and but one of each design. The sale has taken wonderfully; the ladies who are fond of pretty fall patterns and who wish to be alone in the wearing of a tasty dress pattern have taken advantage of it. The inconvenience of waiting for the dress maker during the rush season is done away with by preparing the fall dress now and with such goods to select from at this season of the year, every lady should use forethought in the matter. ## TWO ARE DEAD NINE ARE SICK

Diphtheria Again Breaks Out At Clinton Junction.

STATE BOARD OF HEALTH IS CALLED UPON.

Undertaker J. O. Mayberry Catches the Disease While Embalming the First Victim of the Disease, and Dies Himself in a Week—The Afflicted Ones Are All Children—Excitement Is High at the Village.

Diphtheria has again broken out at Clinton. Two people have died, and nine are now sick.

The Dead.
MAYBERRY, J. O., undertaker, aged 33.
MCCLOSKEY, JOHN, aged 10.

The Sick.
WOOLERMAN, BERTHA.
WOOLERMAN, MINNIE.
WOOLERMAN, ROBERT.
WOOLERMAN, OTTO.
BALDWIN, CURTISS.
GOSHOLY, VOLNEY.
JOHNSON, BLANCHE.
MCCLOSKEY, —.

All of the sick, are children, and the disease all came, it is said, from the same source.

Some time ago, Frank McCloskey was attacked by the disease, and before it became known what the disease was, other children had called to see him. Young McCloskey died, and Undertaker Mayberry was summoned to care for the remains. Mr. Mayberry embalmed the body, and it was shipped to Watertown for interment.

Mayberry SICKENED AND DIED.

Shortly afterward, Mayberry was taken sick himself, and one week from the day that he embalmed the McCloskey boy's remains, he died. It is said that he contracted the disease while embalming the body. Up to this time, the nature of the disease was not known, apparently, because the following item appeared in The Milwaukee Sentinel this morning:

Clinton, Wis., Aug. 11—J. O. Mayberry, a young business man of this city, died suddenly this morning. The state health officer has been asked to come here, as the local physicians disagree as to the cause.

When the representative of the state board of health arrived, however, he declared that the disease was diphtheria and ordered precautions taken. Undertaker F. D. Kimball of this city was sent for, and Mr. Mayberry's remains were interred in private, at four o'clock yesterday morning.

There is considerable excitement in Clinton, in consequence of the appearance of the disease, and every effort was made to keep the matter from becoming public. The sick are all doing as well as could be expected.

Mayberry a Young Man.

Mr. Mayberry's death is generally mourned at Clinton. He was a young man, but thirty-three years old, and very popular. For some time he was engaged in the meat business, but of late had been devoting his time to the undertaking business. A wife and one daughter, aged four years, survive him. He was a member of the Modern Woodmen, and had $3,000 insurance on his life in that order. A memorial service will be held for him, the funeral having been strictly private.

Funeral of Mrs. Splinter.

Funeral services over the remains of Mrs. Julius Splinter were held yesterday afternoon from the La Prairie home at 2:30 o'clock, the Rev. J. C. Koerner of this city officiating. The interment was in Oak Hill cemetery, and the pall bearers were William Reid, Charles Howard, Gustave Pahl and Charles Wilkerson.

Funeral of Mrs. Spohn.

The remains of Mrs. Henry Spohn were laid to rest this morning in Mt. Olivet. Services were held from St. Patrick's church at 9 o'clock.

WHEN THE MILL MAY START.

Cotton Company Will Think of the Matter When Prices Become Settled.

"When the new cotton comes into the market, and the price of the same gets settled, will be time enough for the stockholders of the Janesville Cotton company to think about reopening the upper mills." Such was the statement made yesterday by one of the stockholders. It may be some time next month, and it may be several weeks hence before an action is taken. New cotton is now being put on the market, but the present price is so unsettled that the local investors are satisfied that to "lay low" for the present, is the better plan.

GOES ACROSS A SEA TO CLAIM A BRIDE

GUS CHRISTIANSON RETURNS TO SWEDEN.

Brown Brothers & Lincoln's Shoemaker Leaves to Wed the Girl He Left, Twelve Years Ago, to Seek His Fortune In America—Some Other Weddings.

Fifteen years ago, Gus Christianson, of Stockholm, Sweden, fell in love with pretty Tillie Anderson of that town. For three years they loved each other as only young folk can. Then Gus decided to come to America and seek his fortune. Twelve years ago he set his foot on American soil, and for nine years he worked industriously in various places. Three years ago he came to Janesville and entered the employ of Brown Brothers & Lincoln—for Gus was a shoemaker, a cobbler, if you please.

But ever, during the twelve years that he sat on his bench, with his mouth full of shoe pegs, half-soling the footwear of the Americans, his heart beat tenderly for Tillie, and the flaxen haired lass was always on his thoughts. Once each week a letter went from the Janesville postoffice, and in due time it reached the "land of the midnight sun."

"Old Folks" Want Him.

And once each week there came to the Janesville postoffice, a letter with a foreign stamp on it, directed to Mr. Gus Christianson, Janesville, Wisconsin, Care B. B. & L. U. S. A.

The last letter that came, said, in effect, that Tillie's parents, who reside on a farm near Stockholm, were getting aged, and desired to be rid of the cares of managing the estate. If Gus would let some one else sit on the bench in Brown Brothers & Lincoln's store, it said, and come back to Stockholm, he could have the management of the farm. Gus was delighted.

Because of the fact that a working-man gets more money here than in any other country on the face of the earth—even under the gold standard, and in spite of the crime of '73—Gus had amassed about $1,000 in coin of the realm. That sum would make him a nabob—in Sweden—and he decided to go.

Left This Morning.

Gus made up his mind last night, when he finished his work, he rolled up his apron, and laid down his tools. The shoes were all half-soled, and the rips all sewed up. So he gathered up his belongings, and mounted the stairway.

"I am going to quit," he said, to one of the proprietors.

"What for?"

An ox-blood blush mounted to the roots of Gus' hair.

"I'm going back to Sweden" he replied.

"When?"

"Tomorrow morning."

Then he told the story, and said he was going back to wed fair Tillie and manage her father's acre.

And he did.

This morning he boarded "the limited" and was whirled off to Chicago enroute for New York, and the far away home of his sweetheart.

Brown Bros. & Lincoln are now without a shoemaker, Gus having given them no notice of his leaving. But they wouldn't keep Gus from his bride, so they accepted his resignation—and advertised in The Gazette for another cobbler.

Taylor-Kent.

This afternoon, at 4 o'clock, at the Jackson street home of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Kent, the words were spoken by the Rev. R. L. Cheney that united in marriage Miss Winnifred Kent and Dr. Edward B. Taylor. Only the immediate relatives and a few invited friends were present, the ceremony being performed as the couple stood before a handsome bank of plants and flowers which occupied one corner of the room. Immediately after the ceremony a wedding dinner was served by Caterer G. A. Shutteff, the table being handsomely trimmed with flowers intertwined with milax.

The bride is one of Janesville's most popular young ladies, while the groom is a physician who enjoys a large practice in Chicago. The happy couple were the recipients of numerous handsome presents. They will leave this evening for Chicago, where they will go to housekeeping, their home being on Jackson avenue. Among those present from out of town were: Mr. and Mrs. Ava Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Pechin, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Taylor, Mrs. Elizabeth Spellman and Charles Lichten of Chicago. Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Riley of Louisville, Ky. and Mr. and Mrs. Walt Airis and Charles Hemming of Rockford.

Hatfield-Dane.

D. N. Hatfield, of this city, special agent of the Standard Oil Company, and Miss Emma A. Dane, also of this city, were united in marriage at 8 o'clock Saturday evening, by Rev. W. D. Simonds, of Madison, the wedding taking place in the pastor's home. Mr. Hatfield is well known in the business circles of this section, while his bride is a former Janesville school teacher. Mr. and Mrs. Hatfield are cosily settled in one of the Buidick flats on Franklin street.

Burr Robbins' Son To Marry.

A wedding will be performed in Chicago in the near future, and the contracting are well known in this city. They are Burnett Robbins, formerly of this city, and Miss Louise Lamberton. The bride-to-be is the daughter of wealthy North Side parents, while the groom-to-be is the only son of Burr Robbins, the well known showman.

SUMMER GOWNS.

Embroidered Material Over Colored Silk.

Accessories—Collarettes and Bows.

Among the most elegant of this summer's gowns are those made of broderie Anglaise and of openwork embroidery over linings of colored silk, orange, straw, mauve, pale green or sky blue. The wide belt is of taffeta, matching the lining, and often an entirely black hat accompanies the costume, affording a quaint contrast.

Although muslins, batistes and embroideries are so fashionable, it by no means follows that silk and taffeta have been abandoned for summer gowns. They are as much worn as ever, being becoming, cool and pretty.

Wide, soft, draped belts are a feature of the season. Some of them are so high as to be in reality a corset. There are also undraped ones, very close and trim, and others crossed. Belts are indeed the caprice of the moment, sharing popular favor with the thick ruches of silk, with lace ends, collarettes characterized by bows and choux, boleros of blond or old point, and the medieval sleeve, which, despite the warm weather, covers the wrist and extends over the hand. It is true that in compensation the elbow sleeve is also worn, long gloves covering the forearm out of doors. This is a pretty and comfortable style and one peculiarly graceful for those who can indulge in it.

An attractive innovation, which gives lightness and delicacy to bodices of taffeta or broche silk, is to have the bouffant portion of the sleeve of gauze or mousseline de soie of the same color as the gown, or as the ground, if the gown is of figured goods, the gauze being plain.

Black and white costumes are always in favor with certain women, both millinery and gowns of this character being often very effective and becoming. The combination is almost always in good taste, and there are few or no complexions on which it does not have a favorable effect.

The illustration shows a princess gown of light blue taffeta. The tablier of the godet skirt is outlined by coquilles of white embroidered gauze, which are a continuation of the bretelle draperies on the bodice. The gumples are of white silk gauze, with a plait of white silk down the middle, the embroidered corset being also of white silk. The bouffant sleeves have lengthwise puffings of gauze at the top, a turned back cuff of white embroidered silk being placed just below the balloon. Ruffles of embroidered gauze form epaulets and the collar, choux and wrist frills are of gauze.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

SKIRTS AND BODICES.

Colors That the Bride's Mother Should Wear—Trimmings and Belts.

The costume worn by the bride's mother at the wedding ceremony should be as elegant as she can afford and should not be black. Even if the mother is in mourning she should lay it aside for this occasion. The colors employed vary according to the age and figure of the wearer, but green, violet in all tones from pale to dark, bright chestnut and tobacco brown, wood color and gray are all liked for the purpose. Broche or striped silks and plain satin duchess are the materials usually chosen. The trimming consists of fine lace or beaded passementerie. The skirt ought to have a train of moderate length.

GUPIURE BODICE.

Skirts are now gathered at the top of the back instead of being laid in plaits.

Fashion still favors light bodices different from the skirt. They are of mousseline, gauze, surah, batiste or foulard and are ornamented with a yoke of guipure or other lace, large, square collars or arrangements of valenciennes lace. Embroidery, passementerie and beaded trimmings are also much employed. White taffeta and satin ribbon are much employed for adorning bodices.

Belts in all forms are very greatly worn. High, narrow, straight, draped, ornamented, plain, they are seen everywhere. They may be fastened by buckles, buttons, clasps, bows or choux.

Skirts remain comparatively simple as a set off to the much trimmed bodices now worn. The more beautiful the material the plainer the skirt. Not that decoration is not fashionably employed upon them, however, for applications of embroidery and lace, ruffles and ruches are all seen and are very suitable for thin gowns of wash or other materials.

The illustration given today shows a bodice of ecru guipure embroidered with white. It is close fitting and is made over a lining of pink silk. The short blouse is rippled. The draped sleeves are of pink guipure. The collar and vest are of plaited pink silk gauze, the collar points and epaulets of guipure. A belt of green satin, with paste ornaments and a buckle, defines the waist.

He Had a Grudge.
"Did you know that Binks had committed suicide?"

"No. When did he do it?"

"Last night at Dusenbury's hotel."

"Well, that just shows the extremes to which a determined and revengeful man may go. He had a quarrel with Dusenbury night before last, and I'll bet he just did this to get even. He always was a mighty small, mean man in some ways."—Chicago Post.

All Over.
"Before I went away," said the returned traveler to the man who never cares to wander from his own fireside, "young Spifin was deeply infatuated with Miss Franklin."

"Oh, that's all over now."

"He met a girl he liked better, I suppose?"

"No; he married Miss Franklin."—Pittsburgh Chronicle.

A Criticism.
The woman who writes became sarcastic in speaking of another woman who not only writes, but who publishes.

"She is very versatile," an admirer had remarked.

"Um—yes. But I think she misapplies her talents."

"In what way?"
"Her cook books read like works of fiction and her works of fiction read like cook books."—Washington Star.

All Right Anyhow.
The skies were never bluer,
And love was never truer,
And dollars never fewer
Than they are to-day;
But—what's the use in crying?
There's fish enough for frying;
A song's ahead of sighing,
And we're happy on the way!

The man with a weight on his leg can't hope to win in the race. A man with a weight on his health can't expect to compete in life and business with those who are not handicapped. His brain is heavy, and his blood sluggish, because of constipation, he will not succeed in doing anything very well. Constipation is the cause of nine-tenths of all sickness. Symptoms of rare faintness, listlessness, poor appetite, bad taste in the mouth, dizziness, biliousness and lassitude. Constipation can be cured easily and certainly by the use of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They are not at all violent in their action, and yet they are more certain than many medicines which are so strong that they put the system all out of order. The great advantage of the "Pleasant Pellets" is that they cure permanently.
